

STOMACH FERMENTS
Artificial Fermentation now Passed.

The plan of inducing chemical fermentation in the stomach to dissolve lumps of undigested food as a relief for Dyspepsia is about on a par with the earlier practice of bleeding a patient to restore his vigor.

We are agents for the New Plan of treating Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Stomach Troubles—

which are effecting absolute cures in almost every case, by enabling

The Stomach to Perform its Natural Functions.

A large package containing 120 doses, 50 cents; a smaller package, 25 cents.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE. A PLEASANT CORRECTIVE FOR HEAVY EATERS. One of Giles' Dyspepsia Tablets taken after a hearty meal will ward off that sense of fullness which is the advance symptom of indigestion. They help your stomach to completely digest the food you eat, and prevent clogging of the stomach through over eating.

HE RELATES EXCITING STORIES OF HIS STAY IN THE PHILIPPINES
Richmond Man Returns After Service With Army in the New Insular Possessions—Execution of Natives.

Mr. George E. Grim, formerly of Richmond, who has for the past three years been service in the Philippines, was honorably discharged from his company last month, and is now in the city with his parents, who live at No. 814 Spring Street. The return of Mr. Grim to his home and his numerous friends in the city is a source of much pleasure to them and the stories of his experiences while in that country are as interesting as they are exciting.

Mr. Grim is a very modest young man and despite the fact that he has seen the Philippines, and has some experiences that any man might feel proud to tell, he talks with that free and easy manner characteristic of the gentleman, whose head is not easily turned by travel. His

EXECUTED FOR MURDERS.

Extreme modesty forbids him telling of his adventures, unless engaged in conversation, when by degrees he leads his hearer on and holds him spell-bound, while he relates the life of the natives, what they do, what they eat and wear and how the American soldiers fare in the country.

He has a magnificent assortment of photographs taken of interesting scenes and the dress of the natives. Among this collection are several pictures of the companies who participated in the ceremonies on the burial of President McKinley. Mr. Grim enlisted in the Third Cavalry, which was stationed at Long, North of Manila. Captain Conrad commanded his troop, from Manila to Davao, where there is the only railroad in the island. This is a narrow-gauge, one hundred and twenty-three miles long.

His troop had active service all through the northern part of Luzon, mostly skirmishing. "The Philippines do not fight fair, nor will they stand for an attack," said Mr. Grim. "They do the most of their fighting by creeping up on a body of men and firing once, then taking to their heels. They are very poor shots and this accounts for the small number of our soldiers who were killed. The bow and arrow is used very much in the back regions and it is much more dangerous than the rifle, as used by the natives who have instead of civilization.

The inhabitants of the island living back in the swamps are nearly savage, living in true savage style, worshipping nothing, or rather some heathen god. They are very hostile to any intruder.

"I think," continued Mr. Grim, "the island to be the very best place on earth for a young man to go, who has no parents, of course, and start life. Let him grow up with the country, as it were, and in course of ten years he would be very rich."

While Mr. Grim was contented with his lot while serving his country, yet after

MAYOR OF FAIRMOUNT, AND THE METHODIST CHURCH.

GROWTH OF NEW HENRICO TOWN

Fairmount, Recently Incorporated, Apparently Has a Bright Future Before It—Streets Will Be Lighted and Fire Brigade Will Be Organized.

IT HAS ONLY ONE NEGRO FAMILY

Of the various suburban attractions about Richmond, Fairmount, on the easternmost end of the city, in a northerly direction, is perhaps the largest and the most flourishing. Formerly a part of Henrico county and later a special district controlled by a Board of Commissioners, it is now, recently an incorporated town, with a Mayor and Council.

Indications other than these progressive steps point to the future development of Fairmount. Houses are going up now in considerable number and others are to be erected. The condition of those dwellings already there is excellent. There are no negroes in the place and the sight of a saloon in Fairmount has not been seen for many a day. Under the new regime, various improvements will be made in the way of sanitary conditions—streets, lights and other things. The town, in fact, while not booming, is keeping well up to the modern pace and shows no sign of a lagging step.

HISTORY OF THE PLACE.
Fairmount was separated from Henrico county something over two years ago and was established as a special district. Prior to that time for several years it had been in the hands of the Richmond Land Company. As a special district, the management of the affairs of the place was vested in a Board of Commissioners, consisting of four or five well-known gentlemen, residents of the district. Until a short time ago this arrangement was in force, when the people got tired of the special district scheme. Finally at a special meeting the commissioners resigned and stepped down and out in favor of some other plan. Some wanted to return to the county, but the progress had been made in the majority and carried the day for incorporation. The necessary papers were drawn up, and Mr. Thomas W. Gardner, representative from Henrico in the House, offered a bill giving the town a charter.

Meanwhile an election had been held and the first Mayor was chosen in the person of Mr. T. Walker Jeter, a well-known young man of the county, who is friendly to the town. The members of the Council, consisting of five members, were Mr. W. H. Brauer. Since the incorporation the place has been divided into five wards.

At the present time there are in Fairmount about 125 houses, mostly plain frame, but substantial and neat. The population is made up of about 700 white persons. By a stipulation made when the Fairmount Land Company was in control, no property can be sold to negroes, certainly not before 1917. There is, however, one negro family in Fairmount, which was there before the land company came into possession, and which has not yet gotten out. In addition to the houses already in the place, there are sixteen others now in course of construction, and five more are to be built later. These houses are to be sold to actual settlers on accommodating terms as to cash and time. Other inducements likely to attract desirable residents are offered.

Conspicuous among the larger buildings in the place is the Fairmount Methodist Church, of which the Rev. J. O. Babcock is the pastor. The Fairfield High School building is also noticeably present. It is situated at Twenty-first and T Streets, and is a large brick building, one of the best of its kind in Virginia outside the larger cities. There are 4 or 7 teachers in the school and about 450 pupils. Three large grocery stores also grace the town of Fairmount. The Baptists are building a church which is to be one of the most handsome in the East End and the Christians are looking out for a lot on which to build. Last, but not least, Fairmount boasts a net car line, which runs on a schedule which will be improved very shortly.

WHAT WILL BE DONE.
These things Fairmount already had become a town. Now that it has been incorporated other things are to follow. A census of the town has just been taken by the Councilmen. The sanitary conditions, which always have been good, will be improved. Some system of lighting the streets will be adopted and, what no other town has, perhaps, an adjunct system for lessening the danger of fire. The Richmond department attends fires in Fairmount and yet the people want to be safer still. A bucket brigade will be organized, and while the fire department, in the instance of a fire, is on its

BURIED BY THE CITY.
The body of John Baskin, who died at the Home for the Sick Thursday night, will be buried by the city. Intelligence was received from Charleston, S. C., his late residence, bringing information that his relatives are unable to bear the expense of his burial. The strike at this time in the city has called into use the funds of the city and Bagley's fellow machinists are without funds to meet his burial.

JEFF-FITZ FIGHT.
Jauden Confident Mill Can Be Pulled Off at Charleston.
(By Associated Press.)
CHARLESTON, S. C., April 5.—J. C. Jauden, representing the Southern Athletic Club, which has bid for the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight, returned today from New York. Concerning Jeffries' demand that the forfeit be increased from $5,000 to $10,000 and to cover the assurance of pulling off the contest, Jauden said he would at once consult his attorney and secure a statement of the State's attitude towards the fight. It is assumed that there will be no interference here with the meet the demands of the champion and arrange to close the engagement for Charleston. Jauden has no doubt that the fight can be pulled off.
