Community health a focus of Little Free Medicine Cabinet

Along the same lines as the recent Little Free Libraries, the folks at Richmond Treatment Center have announced a new project they're calling "Little Free Medicine Cabinet":

It's a "take a med, return a med" gathering place where neighbors share their unwanted and extra medicines... In its most basic form, a Little Doctor is a box full of medicine where anyone may stop by and pick up what they need. You can, too!

They hope to have the box in place near Grace and 23rd by late April.
